SONOMA U. C. GRADUATE WINS DRAMATIC HONORS

Miss Gabrielle Heggie, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Heggie of this valley, has won honors as a dramatist in Berkeley where, two weeks ago, she graduated from the University of California.

Miss Heggie, who is a clever French scholar, dramatized a fable which she called "La Fontaine Fable" and it was produced by the French pupils of the Berkeley High school last Friday with much success. Miss Heggie's originality, technique, and poetic genius won her the plaudits of critics present and she gives promise of doing much brilliant work along these lines.

MISSION BELL CEREMONY ON NEXT SATURDAY

Many Are Expected to Visit Sonoma's Historical Landmark; Governor Stephens Has Been Invited

The committee having charge of the hanging of the Mission Bell ceremonies next Saturday at 2 p.m., is perfecting elaborate plans for an impressive day which should attract visitors from far and wide. The restoration of the original bell, belonging to the Sonoma Mission, is the motif for the ceremonial. It was expected to have J. V. Snyder, of the State Landmark Commission here but Mr. Snyder is unable to attend. Governor Stephens and other members of the Commission have been invited to participate in the program. Senator Slater will attend.

The State Home band will render music, and a Franciscan father will bless the bell at the close of the exercises.

Preceding the program, guests of honor and members of the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club will partake of a luncheon at the Union Hotel, where the following appetizing menu is to be served:

Relishes
Consomme
Fruit Salad
Squab Chicken and Garden Peas
Asparagus — New Potatoes
Ice Cream — Cakes
Coffee

The club ladies will sell miniature bells for souvenirs during the day and expect to realize a neat sum as an aid toward liquidating the clubhouse debt. The little bells are replicas of the California Mission bells and El Camino Real.

VIOLIN WITH SAD HISTORY BASIS OF COURT CONTENTION

A rare old violin, bearing an eighteenth century date and the name of a famous master, has been the basis of a court action recently brought by Mrs. Grover Rubke against Henry Weber Jr., claimant of the instrument. The violin was among the effects in the Weber household and at the death of Mrs. Weber, who willed her property to her only son, Henry Weber Jr., he came into possession of it. Mrs. Rubke alleged that the violin was her separate property and on the strength of a bill of sale which she held, went into court to have the ownership question settled for all time. Judge Justi heard the evidence and decided that the violin belong to Mrs. Rubke.

The instrument has a sad history, in that it was formerly the property of Miss Scholz, a talented musician who once lived in Sonoma and was later killed by a rejected suitor at the Ferry building in San Francisco. After her tragic death her parents offered the violin for sale and it thus came into the possession of the Weber family.

JOHN WAGNON SELLS PROPERTY

John Wagnon, Sonoma's postmaster, has sold his three acre place, corner of Patton and 5th St. East, to Mrs. Charlotte Englen. The property is improved and has by owned by Mr. Wagnon since 1878. ANOTHER BIG REALTY DEAL IN SONOMA VALLEY

Mrs. Spindler Sells Vineyard and Orchard Near El Verano For Handsome Sum.

F. Buenzle of San Francisco has purchased the fine 50-acre ranch known as Carlsheim from the owner, Mrs. Belle Spindler. The property is situated near El Verano and consists of vineyard and orchard, with commodius residence. The price received for the ranch is reported to have been a fine one. Much of the vineyard is planted to Thompson seedless grapes.

Mrs. Spindler recently purchased the place from her husband following domestic troubles of several years duration. She made the sale to Mr. Buenzle through the realty firm of Orem and Butters.

INDIAN PLAY WAS A CREDIT TO SCHOOL

"Glory of the Morning" Proved to Good Drama and Was Well Acted; Quartette Makes Hit

"The Glory of the Morning", as given by the cast of High school students last Friday night at Union Hall, proved to be an excellent drama, well acted, and presented with a fidelity in interpretation and stage setting which showed artistic direction of a high order. The background of wild mountain beauty, with real trees and shrubbery in the foreground was redolent of the forest home of the people in the play. The funeral march of the prelude sounded the tragic note which ran throughout the act and terminated in the denouement which the sad beginning portended. Miss Nancy Griffith won the hearts of the audience as the heroine, "Glory of the Morning." She showed dramatic fervor in some of the strong lines of the play. Her singing was sweet and added to the artistic side of the production.

John Steiner made a handsome chevalier, Half Moon, and played his part well.

Red Wing, the son, and Oak Leaf the daughter, of the Indian wife and the squaw man, were portrayed by Donald Prestwood and Adele Polloni in a capable manner. Black Wolf was an excellent part played by Harry Burmester.

Part Two of the program was a musical offering by the school quartette composed of Harry Burmester, Major Phillips, Meryl Bish, and Haster Ring. Their voices blended well and the boys proved keen interpreters of the comedy in music. Miss Emilie Poppe was the director and accompanist of the musical offering.

While no price for the wine grapes of 1920 has been established, offers of $50 per ton are being freely made and cash in advance guaranteed.

Miss Stella Boyd, private secretary and stenographer to Thos. P. Boyd, prominent attorney and solicitor of Marin county, was here from San Rafael Sunday and while in the valley entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Murphy at dinner at Boyes Springs Hotel. Miss Boyd is a sister of Thos. P. Boyd and of Editor Will Boyd, of the Sausalito "News."

The Hooper children, who have been making their home with the Goodmans on Broadway, have gone to Glen Ellen to board with Mrs. Edington.

HIGH SCHOOL SHOW

A wonderful evening of musical entertainment will be given by the students of the Sonoma High School, Friday, June 4th, in Union Hall. The program will be presented by the music department, and the girls' chorus, boys' quartette, and the orchestra will participate.

The girls' chorus will give a clever and tuneful Chinese operetta, "The Feast of the Little Lanterns. The characters of the play are:

Princess Chan, A Chinese Heiress ..... Nancy Griffith
Mai Ku, A Japanese Juggler Girl ..... Geraldine Evans
Wee Ling, Maid to the Princess ..... Emily Camp
Ow Long, Governess to the Princess ..... Angeline Marmori

They are ably supported by the well-trained choruses of tthe Girls' Glee Club.

The scene of the operetta is in the garden of the ancestral estate of Prince Chan. The story is woven about the estate and is one not only of interest but also of fascinating beauty and charm. The little "Chinese" girls will appear in bright- colored Chinese costumes and will carry little lanterns and ever will be waving their dainty fans. The operetta is everything its name suggests "The Feast of the Little Lanterns.

The Boys' Quartet will present the following group of songs:

(a) A Green Litttle Boy
(b) A Spring Idyll
(c) The Story of a Tack
(d) The Spring Poet

They will also present a comic quartet entitled "The O. P. R. A." This deals with the trials and tribulations of an operatic manager who has advertised for a company of singers to take the parts in his beautiful new "O. P. R. A." The cast is as follows:

The Operatic Manager ..... Harry Burmester
The Prima Donna ..... Major Phillips
The Dutch Comedian ..... Meryl Bish
The Irish Soubrette ..... Haster Ring

Every minute of the evening will be one of absorbing interest and delight for all who attend.

Do come and see and hear "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," the Boys' Quartet and, the orchestra.

Marguerite Helberg.

Regular meeting of N. D. G. W. was held Monday night and Annie D. Eraldi and Maud B. Stein were initiated. After the meeting adjourned a very nice banquet was held.

Mrs. Burlingame and Mrs. Appleton are visiting in San Francisco.

SONOMA'S OLDEST BRIDGE TO BE REPLACED

Modern Concrete Span Being Built Over Creek Near Where Cooper Bridge Stands.

Cooper bridge, which crosses Sonoma creek near the Cooper and Snyder ranches south of town, and said to be the oldest bridge in Sonoma county, is to be retired, after many years of service, and the travelling public is to be provided with a handsome concrete structure now being built. Supervisor Weise has had the improvement in mind for some time past, not only in conformity with the program of the Supervisors in building concrete bridges throughout Sonoma county, but also to eliminate the dangerous curve at that point. The heavy auto trucks now in use also make the replacing of the ancient bridge an urgent necessity. Cooper bridge will remain as a landmark; the new bridge will span the creek further north.

Road Foreman Fred Helberg is also overseeing several other substantial improvements in Supervisor Weise's district. A concrete bridge is being put in near the Conrad Kiser place; a concrete culvert has just been completed in front of the State Home, and a bridge is also being built near Watmaugh school.

The rock crusher which the county has had installed on the Sullivan place is now in operation and crushed rock for road repairs will be hauled by auto truck. Mr. Helberg is making an effort to get another county truck to facilitate the work in this district.

L. Mouyer & Co. have sold a cottage and lot at Verano belonging to Jack Main to Alex McRatz, a retired navy man who will come here to make his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Naden of Clovis, Fresno county, having closed up the transaction whereby they acquired the fine orchard property in Sonoma Valley formerly owned by the Griffith family, have returned to Fresno. They will return to spend the month of July in the Valley of the Moon, and will later move here to remain permanently.

Mrs. Burmester charmingly entertained the Flying Needles last week.

STREET BONDS WIN BY BIG MAJORITY

Interest in Sonoma's Permanent Street Improvement Marked From Time Polls Opened Yesterday.

The bond election for permanent streets and sewer extension carried by the following vote: For streets, 263; against, 32. For sewer extension 227; against, 42.

The bond election was the topic of feverish interest from the minute the polls opened yesterday morning until the hour of closing. Sonoma property owners spurred by the chance to put the town on the map of progress took a keen interest in getting friends and neighbors out to vote. Automobiles were freely loaned to carry voters to the polls and the merchants closed their stores from 1 to 3 and did some excellent campaigning for both the street and sewer propositions.

Sonoma evidently realized that the eyes of the surrounding county and many new residents were focused on the results of the election and that it was to be a record of progress or the old rut.

The city trustees however warned property owners that in the event two thirds majority for the bonds failed that the improvement would be forced through by direct tax under the Vrooman act.

FLAMES CONSUME OTTO BRANDT HOME

Former McMackin Property Destroyed By Fire Yesterday Afternoon.

The McMackin residence at Schellville belonging to Otto Brandt was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The structure was formerly one of the fine old homes of Sonoma Valley. Brandt made his home there and was sleeping in the house at the time of the fire. He escaped in his underclothes and fled to the garage to save his car.

The garage, barn and out buildings were saved.

The Akers house and fields of grain opposite narrowly escaped destruction.

Valley of the Moon cherries are among the finest grown, although most of the wonderful Bings and other mammoth varieties go to Los Angeles where they are taken for Southern California fruit.

Mrs. Le Furgy and little son have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. De Place.

SONOMA'S NEW ORGANIZATION

All hail, Business Men's Association of Sonoma! Hats off to you, gentlemen! We believe that our city is entering upon a new era with this splendid impulse for progress and civic betterment which your organization evidences. When any community comes to the realization of the advantage of co-operative working for the good of its future, the possibilities for that community rapidly develop. There has been a growing realization of this need and it has culminated in an organization which bids fair to be of much assistance in the upbuilding of Sonoma.

All over California the work of such promotion bodies has resulted in wonderful development and even in the face of great odds and natural disadvantages many towns and cities have triumphed in the march of progress, primarily through the united efforts of a good citizenship

Sonoma, with its wealth of historic association and surrounded by as beautiful and fertile a valley as ever was allotted to settlers of the rugged West, has manifold possibilities, if its destiny is now properly shaped and its growth fostered by far-seeing enthusiasts united for the common good.

May the Sonoma Business Men's Association thrive and win many laurels for our city. May the "trade at home" slogan be strengthened, with the resultant bigger business for Sonoma, the natural trading center of a fast-growing surrounding area. May we get and keep bigger business on our merits as square dealers and guarantors of good service. All of this and more, too, which will redound to the credit of our town and assure our success, may be brought about through the organization which Sonoma's business men have just perfected.

THE FRIEND TO THE UNDERDOG

While discoursing on the subject of politics and coming presidential possibilities recently, someone in the crowd remarked that he favored a certain candidate because he always seemed to be a friend to the underdog, meaning of course that his leaning was sympathetic toward the masses. The politician who preaches this sentiment and not only preaches it but goes to high pitch of emotion in acclaiming the love he bears his fellows and the virtues of his panacea for aiding them is in fact not a friend of the masses but of one of the classes. When the real masses of which we are all members regardless of the grime on our hands, the transfer on which we ride, the touring car we own or the home we can afford are affected by class legislation's recoil, society in general is disturbed.

The friend to the underdog having faith in his theory or for the advancement of himself in the confidence of the unwary would and has attempted sweeping and radical measures to aid those struggling for an easier way to live. What has been the outcome? Society's beach is strewn with the costly wreck of countless theories, or the intended benefactors are either actually more wretched in their semi-betterment or more radical in their determination to destroy or overide all tested economic law to attain a cherished end. Such conditions have become common and the friend of the underdog continues to bid for popularity but not without a growing sense of realization that when we hamper the thrifty and overtax the sinew of the county and put the burden of theoretical experimentation on the backs of all the people there is vast more harm and to greater number than where sanity and conservatism takes the safe grade to prosperity and betterment, probably a slower, more winding one and a longer haul but in the end better for everybody. Let every man and woman consider this in deciding on a presidential choice and not be tricked by the poser and the tale of the underdog.

The high prices and the heavy taxes of to-day are in a large measure due to theorists who have ridden into power on a frothy wave of reform and made the dear people believe that their ship would come in laden with the golden fleece of prosperity such as only the friend of the underdog could summon out of the social mist. The ship of state he pictured is long overdue but manned by a costly crew who cheer from stern to gudgeon for the friend of the underdog, the sturdy craft bucks the tide and makes port.. The friend of the underdog fails to make good. Too many fat salaries, too many berths for political ward heelers, too much theory and costly machine and no grist.

The underdog is not the only one who gets it in the scruff of the neck if the county is not run right. We are not all underdogs but we are all of the masses and should discreetly consider the interests of the county as a whole rather than that of any particular strata whether submerged as in the coal mines or lofty as in the corporations sky scrapers. Class legislation is bad legislation. The underdog does not wag his tail reassuringly either and howls with the rest of us at sky high prices and more complex problems from exploded theories which were intended for his benefaction.

IS THE HIGHWAY Commission stalling in their postponement of an interview with Sonoma County's representatives who are in quest of action on the Santa Rosa-Schellville road? It looks that way but we trust that future developments will disprove present misgivings.

PLAN BIG ATTRACTIONS AT AGUA CALIENTE

E. G. Perkins Outlines His Plans For New Campaign Designed to Bring Crowds Into the Valley.

E. G. Perkins, who has taken over the amusement directorship of Agua Caliente springs, is working on elaborate plans for a series of concerts and other attractions to bring big crowds to the Sonoma Valley.

He is an experienced promoter of amusements and has every reason to be assured of success with the co-operation and interest now being evidenced. In an open letter to the residents of Sonoma Valley, which we are pleased to print herewith Mr. Perkins says:

"Vallejo with a population of 20,000; San Rafael, Petaluma, and Napa with 5,000 each, and Santa Rosa with 8,000, are all situated within a few hours of the Valley of the Moon and contain thousands of people who love good music and clean entertainment. We, as a community, are not doing a single thing to attract them here—the one spot in California best fitted to be their recreation center.

"As director of amusements for Agua Caliente this year I am undertaking a vigorous campaign to change this condition of inaction by promoting a series of concerts by a wonderful string band of ten instruments and a group of talented soloists, both vocal and instrumental. All my resources are in back of this campaign and I deserve the support of every man, woman and child who loves his home valley. In this connection I wish to say that I am not asking donations from a few but I am asking that everyone come to the Sunday afternoon concerts and help by your presence more than financially.

"I think there are enough genuine music lovers to support the expense of this series of concerts and that there are enough live business men who will realize the advantage of having some one man making it his life work to put Sonoma and its valley in the place it is entitled to, not only in summer but all the year round.

"I am making an attractive proposition to various lodges and other organizations to hold outings at Agua Caliente, and at this writing a committee representing 10,000 men in the five cities above mentioned are going into every detail connected with giving a monster two-day session in this valley.

"In conclusion let me say I cannot believe that I can possibly fail to make good with the endeavor to elevate musical conditions, provide entertainment for visitors, and stimulate the number of new faces among us, and when the tickets are placed on sale I trust that every one will be snapped up quickly.

The concerts are to be held under the veranda of the new Agua Caliente Hotel at 2:30 p.m. Popular prices will prevail. The opening date will be announced soon.

ESTATE TO BE PROBATED

Petition for letters of administration in the estate of the late Isaac Cohen, who died in San Francisco on May 5, were filed today with the county clerk by Mrs. Rachael Cohen through her attorney, R. A. Poppe.

According to the petition, Cohen was a merchant at Agua Caliente where he owned a store and residence, valued at $2,000, also 98 acres of mountain land nearby valued at $1,050, and personal property, the total value of the estate being over $4,000. Cohen died intestate. Besides his widow, four sons survive, Barnett, Alexander, Wilfred and Daniel; also a daughter, Mrs. Annie Forman, of Stockton. Two other sons by a former marriage have not been heard from for over twenty years and their whereabouts are unknown, according to the petition.

DEATH OF A BELOVED CHILD

The Angel of Death claimed the infant daughgter of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Thomson Wednesday night. The little spirit was called to eternity after a hard struggle following a complication of illnesses. Everything possible was done to bring strength and health back to the little one but to no avail. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends in their loss and sorrow.

NAPA COUNTY PATIENT RETURNS TO HOSPITAL

Christopher Gilardo, who was brought to the county jail a few days ago from Sonoma Valley by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan, and later taken to the county hospital, was removed to Napa Wednesday by officers from there. Gilardo has been confined in a Napa county hospital and escaped from there a short time ago. He is a very sick man and officers believe that he will not live long.

Henry Weber Jr., teller at the Sonoma Valley bank, has been spending his summer vacation enjoying the surf and visiting friends in Monterey, Del Monte and Carmel.

Mrs. Campbell Pomeroy, daughter of Mrs. Wm. Hanger, is at the Burke sanitarium suffering with nervous breakdown.

Doctor Hays was called to the Waller tract this week where he attended the little son of Mrs. Wilson who cut himself badly on a scythe. The doctor took several stitches in the leg of the injured lad.

FARM BUREAU WILL CONCENTRATE ON POULTRY

The poultrymen of Sonoma county will undoubtedly be pleased to hear of the latest developments as a result of farm bureau activities pertaining to the needs of the poultry industry. Ever since the Sonoma County Farm Bureau has been organized poultrymen have endeavored to have attached to the farm advisor's office a poultry specialist, trained to meet their peculiar needs. Though diligent search was made, no one capable of filling this need was found.

With the coming of the new farm advisor, a plan was worked out, however, which has met with instant approval of poultrymen and promises to bring great results. In this plan it is set forth that what is needed is a research laboratory in poultry diseases stationed at Petaluma in addition to definite extension work among the poultrymen in this county which would seek to disseminate the information now known or to be discovered.

The University of California has in mind the establishment of a research laboratory in Petaluma but will be unable to establish the same before July 1, 1921. In order, however, to hurry this matter, the feed dealers and other interested citizens of Petaluma have raised a fund to be used to help establish this research laboratory July 1, 1920.

Extension work in poultry husbandry which contemplates the establishment of demonstration poultry farms, demonstration meetings in culling, housing, and feeding methods, will begin immediately two assistant farm advisors are available to the farm advisor's office in Santa Rosa and the time of one man will be spent upon this problem in the various districts of Sonoma county, though principally in the Petaluma section. The university has announced that they have sufficient funds to place two assistant farm advisors in Sonoma county and it now only remains for the board of supervisors to make the required appropriation for the year beginning July 1, 1920, to establish this poultry department and set it on its way.

Any poultrymen having problems of a character which the extension division can aid in are requested to make known their desires to the farm advisor's office in Santa Rosa until such time as a sub-office or laboratory is located in Petaluma.

Samuel Nelson Cowan, a pioneer resident of the Kenwood section, died at his home Thursday evening after a lingering illness. He was born in St. Joseph, Mo., February 18, 1863, and came to California 45 years ago.

ENRAGED BULL FIGHTS AUTO.

A smashed fender and a punctured radiator—that is the latest disaster to an automobile on the "beautiful boulevard" between Santa Rosa and Sonoma.

However, this time the damage was done by an enraged bull instead of the millions of chuck holes, protruding rocks, and other spring- breaking, back-straining, and temperament destroying inconveniences on that particular highway

The story has been brought to Santa Rosa that Thursday a party of boys were driving some cattle down the highway when an automobile approached from the opposite direction. A young bull in the herd didn't like the looks of the automobile and gave battle. With lowered head he charged the machine, struck it squarely in the center of the radiator and bounded to one side. Careful manipulation of the automobile saved further damage, it is said.

The machine was the property of R. Fest, formerly of El Verano, but now of San Francisco, and it is reported that Mr. Fest was driving.

Mr. Fest intimated at the sheriff's office, where he told of the incident, that he was lucky the bull attacked his machine and damaged it only slightly as he had visions of a completely wrecked machine before he negotiated the full distance of the highway.—Republican.

DEATH CALLS BANDMASTER

Louis Knell, the well known musician and bandmaster, passed away at the Cottage hospital in San Rafael on Thursday evening shortly after being removed from the operating table where he underwent an operation for an ailment of long standing. The news of his death will be received here with deep regret by many friends. He was one of the best known musicians in the state and for some years was director of the Patriarchs Militant band.

From here he went to Santa Rosa, thence back to Sacramento where he had previously resided, and for the past year had been director and leader of the band of St. Vincents orphanage, near San Rafael. He had been failing in health since last February but was able to be up and around up to Thursday when the operation was performed.—Petaluma Argus.

Mr. Knell was the leader of St. Vincent band when it played here at the Woman's Club carnival.

Mrs. Greeley left for La Jolla Friday and her many friends will miss the departure of Mrs. Simmons' gracious mother.

PASSING OF SONOMA'S FORMER RACE TRACK

Surveyor Specht is making surveys and laying off town lots on the former race track property belonging to the Monahans. The lots will be put on the market at an attractive price. They have sewer, water, and light connections.

The passing of Sonoma's race track is regretted by racing fans who in days gone by saw some speedy events on this course. The Sonoma Driving Club had the track leased several seasons.

Last Sunday one of the largest picnics of the season was held at Sequoia Resort, Napa County, by the "Jolly Twelve." Over forty were present. Swimming, dancing, and boating were participated in and a wonderful lunch was served under the redwoods. Everyone present had a fine time that will not be forgotten soon.

Mrs. Aubrey Barham was over from Santa Rosa and spent a week with her daughter and grandson, Mrs. A. Stein and little Richard.

Capt. Will Stofen is at the home of his mother on Broadway recuperating from his recent accident. His broken limb is still in a plaster cast but the Captain is looking in fine health and hopes Sonoma's climate will hasten his complete recovery.

The regular business meeting was held at the clubhouse Friday afternoon and it being social afternoon, business was disposed of as soon as possible and a very pleasant program followed in charge of Mrs. James Tate. Mrs. George Lowell, hostess, served iced fruit punch and wafers.

RESORTS OPEN 1920 SEASON WITH MUSIC AND DANCING

Tonight Louis Lamotte, proprietor of El Verano Villa, will welcome his friends and patrons at the resort's 1920 opening dance. A good time is in store for all who attend. The Villa is already filling up rapidly with summer guests and it promises to be as popular this year as ever.

Tomorrow night Wilson's Inn, formerly The Gables, will welcome the public at a jitney dance which is to usher in the summer season under the new management. Jazz music has been engaged for the event. The public is welcome.

PARTIES TO ROAD DISPUTE HEARD AT GLEN ELLEN

District Attorney Geo. W. Hoyle and County Engineer Aldrich met in one of their famous debates at Glen Ellen one night this week. Aldrich excoriated Mr. Hoyle for refusing to permit him to handle a revolving fund which would have permitted the free use of public money to pay county engineering bills. The district attorney had a goodly backing present and more friends after the road controversy had been aired.

Holding a quantity of 1916 atmosphere successfully imprisoned within its sidewalls, a Fisk plain tread automobile tire is still rolling over the roads of the Lone Star State, according to a Clayton, Tex., dentist who happens to be the owner of the long-lived casing.

Ernest Campbell writes enthusiastically about his cotton plantation in Arizona. The cotton which he planted when he first arrived is up and doing nicely.

NOTES FROM BOXERS' HEADQUARTERS AT VERANO

Larry Jones, the hard hitting little featherweight of San Francisco, has been training here for the past week and is rounding into shape for his fight with Joe Gorman which will take place in Portland on June 10. Jones has been boxing around San Francisco for a couple of years and has been winning his bouts easily, and when Billy Gibson, manager of Benny Leonard, saw Jones perform, he became interested in the boy and sent him up to El Verano to train under the care of Harry Fine. When Jones goes to Portland he will go with Benny Leonard, the present lightweight champion, and his manager.

Eddie Mahoney, the Irish lightweight champion and stablemate of Jack Dempsey, has been training here, but is in the city at present on a business trip. He will be back here shortly and will resume his training.

Our own Jack Poulson has started training and, according to the boxers here, he has the fastest left hand they ever saw. Wonder who Jack is training for?

Silk Hat Harry of Sonoma has donated six chickens for a chicken-macaroni dinner for the boxers. Now we are waiting for some one to donate the vin rouge.

Johnny Hennessy of Paul's Resort is very much concerned over the daylight saving law. He says that if they serve dinner at 11 a.m. he will never wake up in time.

Wish someone in Sonoma would get married soon. We have been invited to the next "shiverie", or whatever you call it.

CARD OF THANKS

I herewith desire to thank the many volunteers who came to my assistance during the fire which yesterday desrtoyed my home, and all who aided in saving adjoining property from destruction.

Picnics seem to be quite the vogue this season and another enjoyable one was held by the Three Ace Hikers Club up Sonoma creek above Glen Ellen. A splendid time was had by all present. On Sunday's outing, about thirty were with this congenial crowd.
